

An aerial, high-angle photograph of a tropical beach. The water is a vibrant turquoise color, transitioning to a lighter, almost white hue near the shore. The beach is a wide, sandy strip of white sand. To the right, a dense forest of palm trees and other tropical vegetation borders the beach. Long, dark shadows of the palm trees are cast across the sand, indicating a low sun position. A small figure of a person is visible on the beach, providing a sense of scale. The overall scene is bright and clear, suggesting a sunny day.

About thedronebook

thedronebook is a creative production duo consisting of Chris and Marisa, who specialize in aerial, hospitality, travel, lifestyle, and commercial photography and film.

The duo realized early on that photo and film have to work hand in hand to create a cohesive outcome that speaks the same visual language. This approach led them to often produce both still images and film when working on projects, often using drones to expand their creative possibilities. This places them in a select category of creatives who can master both techniques.

Their dramatic and cinematic style is a true reflection of their creative vision, with every shot being carefully composed to capture authentic and timeless yet modern-aesthetic visuals that never feel overdone or contrived.

With German precision, thedronebook strives for excellence in every aspect of its work, resulting in a portfolio that exudes superior and timeless quality while still feeling fresh and contemporary.

Chris and Marisa combine their individual talents to provide a holistic approach to their productions. Together, the duo's love for their work shines through on every project. They thrive on direct communication and aim to create content that resonates with viewers, drawing them in and making them crave more. Their ultimate goal is to passionately support their clients and partners to reach their desired objectives and bring their vision to life.

thedronebook is based in Germany but works worldwide.
